Pattonville board selects new administrators

The Pattonville Board of Education on May 24 approved hiring three individuals to fill administrative positions in the coming school year. They will begin their new roles on July 1.

David Winslow has been selected as Pattonville's new director of facilities. Winslow has worked as a project manager for BJC HealthCare and Jacobs Facilities, Inc. He also served many years as the project manager for the School District of University City. He holds a bachelor's degree in industrial technology from Northeast Missouri State University and master's degree in business administration from the University of Phoenix-St. Louis.

Greg Schnatmeier will be Holman Middle School's new assistant principal. Since 1997, he has worked as a physical education and health teacher at Pattonville Heights Middle School. He also served as an administrative intern at Pattonville Heights this year. Schnatmeier holds a bachelor's degree in administrative management/health care management from Southwest Missouri State University and earned his Missouri State Teacher's Certificate from Missouri Baptist College. He also earned a master's degree in educational administration from Lindenwood University.

Jeff Walker has been selected as a new assistant principal at Pattonville High School. Walker has taught science at the high school since 1994 and is also currently the head girls' basketball coach. In addition, he completed an administrative internship at Pattonville High School. He holds a bachelor's degree in science education from Southwest Missouri State University and a master's degree in curriculum and instruction from the University of Missouri-St. Louis, where he also earned his principal's certificate.

Anthony Robinson has also been transferred to an assistant principal position at Pattonville High School. He has served as assistant principal at Pattonville Heights Middle School since 2002. Robinson's experience also includes working as an assistant professor and assistant football coach at Evangel University, assistant principal at Berkeley Middle School and social studies teacher at McCluer North and Hazelwood Central high schools. He holds a bachelor's degree in history from Evangel College and a master's degree in secondary education administration from Northwest Missouri State University. He is currently pursuing his doctorate degree with the University of Phoenix.
